Helpful tips from the WVHIN

WEST VIRGINIA HEALTH INFORMATION NETWORK

Patient Search at the Point of Care

Use the WVHIN portal's patient search functionality to review patient (consumer) information at the point of care!

Information in the WVHIN, including encounters, lab results and clinical documents, provides an overall picture of the consumer's physical health utilization to allow staff to have more detailed conversations related to the consumer's health and care.

Key pieces of data found in the WVHIN include emergency department (ED) and inpatient utilization, medications and allergies, as well as who the consumer's providers are in case coordination and follow up are needed. Additionally, the WVHIN has updated demographic information, based on the consumer's most recent health care encounter, which supports contacting hard to reach/locate consumers.
